InsureZone Announces Expansion into Houston

Houston, TX October 6, 2015 – Fort Worth, Texas based InsureZone, a national brokerage and agency network and a leader in insurance technology, announced today the expansion of their operations into the Houston metro area. The new office will be headed up by Vice President of Business Development, Renee Hooker who joined InsureZone in April. Other key personnel include Commercial Underwriters Amy Boyer and Robin Revell; Lead Customer Service Representative Sara Groce and Director of Agency Relations, Rachel DePue.

“Houston is a challenging area for insurance carriers. The proximity to the Gulf of Mexico has created significant underwriting restrictions which limit a local agent’s ability to write business with standard markets,” said Hooker, “By creating a local presence, we hope to foster carrier relationships to ensure the success of our agents.”

InsureZone has two programs available to P&C Agents. AgentSecure is a wholesaler that provides access to national and regional carriers. They operate in all 50 states, focusing on agencies that are seeking an online suite of tools that will help them be more efficient in growing their agency.

InsureZone Direct is a nationwide alliance of experienced agents. This partnership allows each agency to leverage the benefits of a large national operation while being able to maintain their agency identity. The outcome is the ability to help P&C agencies grow what they have and seek out new markets.
